ProjectReady® – Connected Content

Let your team work where they need to, get more value from what you own and apply process over platform

SharePoint

As you build your project, ProjectReady creates, secures and links all the places you store and collaborate on content and keeps you in control of project's documents

With over 90% of today's companies owning Office 365, SharePoint is already available and paid for by most companies.
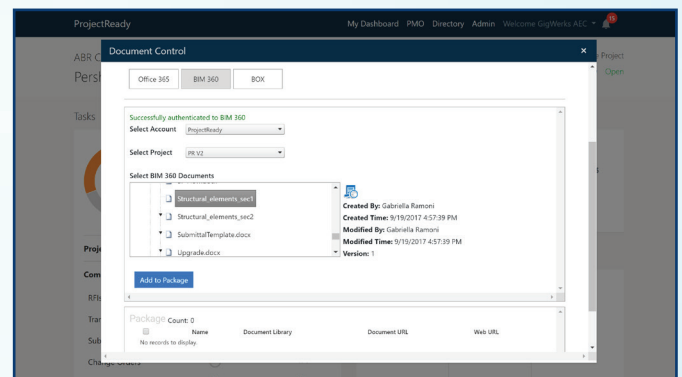

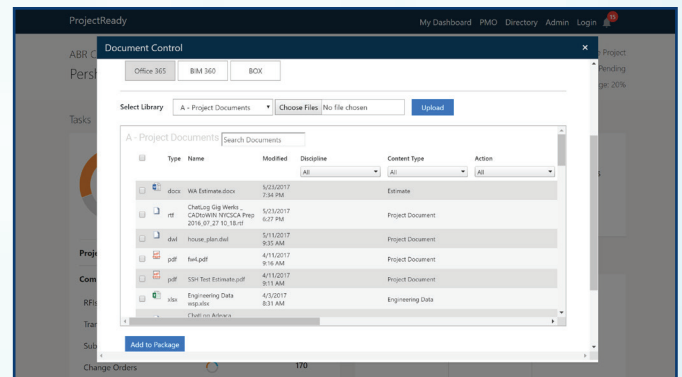

As a platform, SharePoint's features — secure and free access for external users, document and task management, versioning and rich integration and support for Microsoft Office to name a few, have incredible value in running your project.

But getting SharePoint to work for the industry has always been a challenge. And solving that challenge is where ProjectReady began – providing the process to make SharePoint work for the AEC.
